*Loitering groups would gather near the steps
Of the wide entrance.*

*The dark line of the trees
And moving shade
With aisles of subtle sunlight in between.

*I shall forget many things
But I think I shall remember
The elm that stood close to the gym.

Behind the elms.*

The staff wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Miss Knopf and to the Art Department for their generous assistance.

The several visits that Dr. Welch has made to the College, and the several visits I have made to him at Westfield, are all unforgettable. The greatest days we had together were those of Thanksgiving Week in 1924. The doctors at Battle Creek had just told him that he was seriously ill with heart trouble; with utmost care he might live a few months, but the end might come any time. But he was deeply happy and supremely unafraid. He had just written and sent to the papers his wonderful story of his physical breakdown, "Wanted: A 1925 License for an 1852 Car." He read it over to me, and his face fairly glowed with exaltation of spirit, as he read the concluding words: "I am on my last trip, but that doesn't worry me; for if I get stalled on this hill or the next I have a Friend who will tow me home."

He was one of the purest and truest spirits God ever made. He lived in daily intimate communion with his Savior. At the Des Moines General Conference in 1920, his testimony at the Layman's Love Feast was simply: "I am a Christian business man, in business for Jesus Christ." He had a marvelous energy and capacity for business, but with it he was as modest and retiring as a child. He radiated joy and good cheer everywhere he went. In his visits to the College, how he enjoyed everything and everybody, and how he delighted to "snap" every person and every group he met.

He was the most liberal and hilarious giver I ever met. Nobody will ever know the wideness and largeness of his gifts. In times of crisis and need for the College, he inspired and led by unexpectedly large subscriptions; and every little while he surprised us by his quick eye to see for himself something the College needed, and his generous and unsolicited gifts. The name of Dr. Charles E. Welch should be writ large among the friends and benefactors of Illinois Woman's College.

With this issue of the Illiwoco the Class of '27 brings greetings to him who has so won our love and confidence during his first year with us. May we win from him approbation as worthy students of I. W. C.

MISS RUBY B. NEVILLE

By her inspiring scholarship, her charm of personality, her genuine interest in her students and in the College, and by her faithful daily illustration of the loving spirit of her Master, she has enriched the lives of hundreds of students and of a great host in faculty and community, who all now follow her into her new home with unforgetting affection and sincerest good wishes.

Cap and Gown, the Senior Honorary Society of Illinois Woman's College was organized in the spring of nineteen hundred twenty-four, having for its primary purpose the recognition and encouragement of excellence, both in scholarship and general ability. Thus it is an Association to further the spirit of our College Motto "Knowledge, Faith, Service", and to act as a medium for the stimulation and maintenance of high standards.

Election is in all cases by the society itself in accordance with its own rules. The College assumes no responsibility for the election.

Tennis, 1925

Tennis, a major sport, was under the managership of Katherine Hyatt. All girls taking tennis for part of their Physical Education credit and others interested participated in the tournament. The courts, which are maintained by the A. A., were constantly in use; however, before the season was over, inclement weather prevented the completion of the tournament. The final sets were left to be played in the spring.

The tennis trophy, a beautiful silver cup, goes to the individual winner and may be kept for the term of one year. In case the award is won by the same girl for three successive years, it then becomes hers permanently. To attain the college championship is an evidence of excellent form and skill in this sport and brings with it much distinction.

that have befallen humanity have had as their origin nothing less than a union of high intelligence with a low moral purpose."

Education means much more than mind-training, or book-learning.

To be educated is to be governed by spiritual ideals, as well as to possess an efficient and well-stored mind.

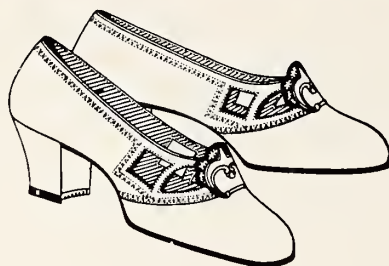

It is immensely important to conscientious parents to have their daughters in a college where there is a thoroughly Christian atmosphere.

At Illinois Woman's College the distinctively Christian moral and religious ideals are affirmed and inculcated.

ANOTHER ROGERS' ANNUAL

DISTINCTIVE

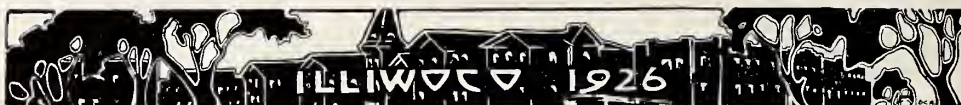

There is something distinctive about a Rogers' printed book. The clean-cut appearance of the cuts and type matter is the result of the skill and experience of 18 years of annual printing.

We enjoy the patronage of high schools and colleges throughout the United States who want a distinctive book of the prize-winning class. Your specifications will receive our prompt and careful attention.
